🍀 CULTURAL HERITAGE

Welcome to Karlslund

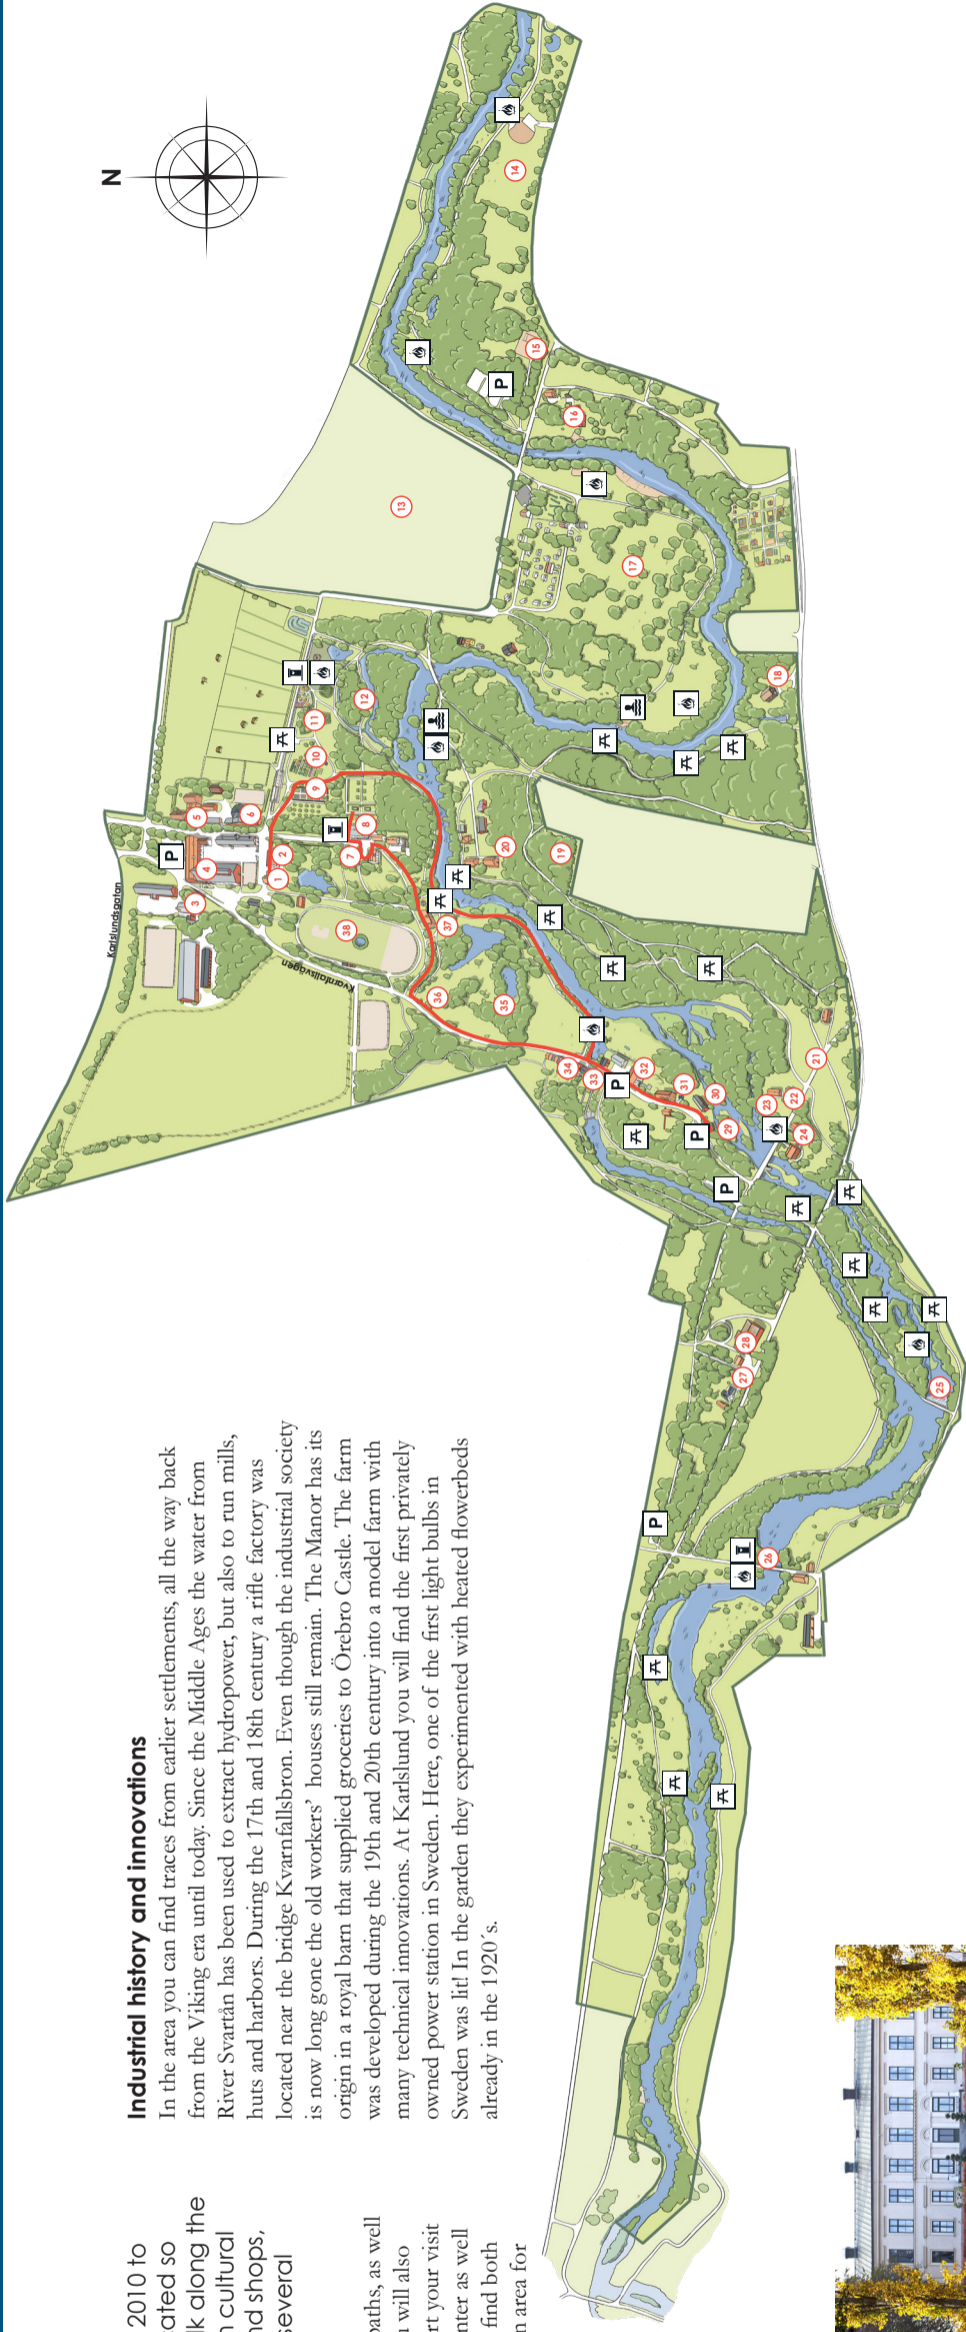

The Cultural Reserve at Karlslund was created in 2010 to preserve and protect this cultural landscape located so close to the city. In Karlslund you can take a walk along the river and experience the manor area with its rich cultural history and diverse nature. In the area you will find shops, craft towns, cafes and exhibits. During the year several public events are also organized in the area.

In the area you will find walkways, bicycle roads and riding paths, as well as places for relaxation and places to have a picnic. Here you will also find studios and club activities as well as riding activities. Start your visit in Ankarvärd's Warehouse where there is an information center as well as an exhibit. In the garden surrounding the Manor you will find both flowerbeds as well as a kitchen garden. There is also a garden area for children to play in.

The Technical Mill with its interactive exhibition and experiments are worth a visit for the entire family. Hästhagen is a place for sport activities and for games such as softball, mini golf, canoe rental and disc golf. There is also a swimming spot here.

Industrial history and innovations

In the area you can find traces from earlier settlements, all the way back from the Viking era until today. Since the Middle Ages the water from River Svartån has been used to extract hydropower, but also to run mills, huts and harbors. During the 17th and 18th century a rifle factory was located near the bridge Kvarnfallsbron. Even though the industrial society is now long gone the old workers' houses still remain. The Manor has its origin in a royal barn that supplied groceries to Örebro Castle. The farm was developed during the 19th and 20th century into a model farm with many technical innovations. At Karlslund you will find the first privately owned power station in Sweden. Here, one of the first light bulbs in Sweden was lit! In the garden they experimented with heated flowerbeds already in the 1920's.
